

UNCLE DAN

Dear Mister Editor:

Zeke Grubb's preacher came by the country store again Saturday night and set with the fellers for a spell. He said about once a month was as often as he could make it on account of the committee meetings.

The good Parson said they was having their troubles over at his church. The Hymn Book Committee met Friday night, he reported, to see if they could iron out a bad situation. He said they got their new hymn books last Sunday and feelings in running pretty high amongst some of the congregation.

The Parson claimed they been needing new hymn books for the last 10 years but keep putting it off on account of some of the members would rather not sing a note as sing out of new books. He said the old hymn books was so wore out you couldn't read the words while the time and some Sunday mornings it was hard to tell if the congregation was singing or praying.

Anyhow, he told the fellers Saturday night, two families has already quit the church and two more is threatening to take their singing elsewhere. Ed Doolittle butted in and allowed as how the custom nowadays was to negotiate things at the third grade. Ed suggested they let them four families keep singing out of the old hymn books. He figured that the tunes might be different and a few changes in the words but if everybody sung real loud, nobody would know the difference. The Parson liked Ed's suggestion and right off invited Ed to move to his Church, said they'd make him a member of the Hymn Book Committee.

But the Parson said a preacher has got to figure on losing a few members once in a while. He recollected that during the 1956 election he lost a family cause they thought he was a Democrat, and in 1960 he lost two on account of them thinking he was a Republican. He said he didn't preach on whiskey and lost one this year cause he did.

I reckon a preacher lives a hard life, Mister Editor. Us farmers and ranchers ain't got nothing to worry about but floods, dry spells, insects, dust erosion, taxes and visiting Congressmen. But a preacher has got to worry about people, and I reckon that's the worst kind of worrying.

There is a old saying that the more ignorant a feller is the less he worries. Clem Webster, fer instance, don't worry about nothing, and Clem has got the reputation of being a feller that'll walk a mile to keep from learning somethin'. They say when Clem was in school they nicknamed him "Bunions" on account of him always being at the foot of the class, and his own Pa claims the morning Clem was promoted to the third grade he got so excited he forgot to shave. But if Clem ain't bothered with worry in this middle age, he's one of God's fortunate children.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Omicron Chapter Plans Exhibition

Mrs. Luther Jones was hostess to the Omicron Chapter of Sigma Eta Sorority of Fine Arts at her home Tuesday night.

Plans for the semi-annual exhibition of the chapter were made to be held Dec. 29 at the Civic Center here, also for a dinner party following the exhibition which will be in late afternoon, for members and their families.

Reports were heard on the art classes which some of the members have been attending at the school under Mrs. Margaret Earwood. The group also made tentative plans to make etchings for the new Civic Center.

You Owe More — $339 Paid More Taxes — $232 As Average Floridian

Taxes collected in Florida by state and local governments totaled $1,161,000,000 during the 1960 fiscal year, up 12 per cent over the previous year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

"This sum includes all taxes, fees, licenses etc. paid to any branch of the state government and to all county, district and municipal governments or agencies within the state. Comparisons with other states are possible only when lumping all state and local monies together because of varying tax structures. For example, in some states the tax on sales is imposed at the state level and in others, at the city level. Thus the state-level total becomes the fair yardstick."

Florida's total last year ranked the state tenth, the same as its population rank. Figured on the basis of the state's 5,000,000 officially estimated population as of July 1 last year, Floridians paid an average of $232 to state and local governments, representing a 7 per cent gain over the previous year. The national average was $242 and the gain 10 per cent.

"Not included in the $1,161,000,000 Florida total were federal grants, unemployment compensation and other trust revenue and net public utility revenues, together amounting to $392,500,000. Thus all monies received during the year by state and local bodies amounted to $1,554,400,000, up 14 per cent during the year."

"Direct expenditures, including borrowings by the state and local governments in Florida, came to $1,588,800,000, a 10 per cent increase compared with a nationwide gain of 4 per cent. The state-local debt outstanding at year's end came to $1,695,300,000 in Florida, up 13 per cent. The national gain was 9 per cent. Per capita, the Florida debt was $339, with 23 other states having a larger figure. The national average was $389."

"Cash and security holdings in Florida totaled $1,068,300,000 at the end of the year, up 11 percent, somewhat better than a national gain of 9 percent."

Churches of Christ Scientist

Spiritual understanding of God's creation helps man meet everyday problems. This is a leading point of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator" to be heard at Christian Science churches Sunday.

From the Bible will be read the account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's son (Matt. 8).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this (p. 313): "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause."

The Golden Text is from Acts (15): "Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world."

We receive but what we give.—Coleridge

HOW CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HEALS

"OUR RELATIONSHIP TO GOD PROVED PRACTICAL"

W. W. W. 800 E. C. 1545 D. M.

Read John 14:1-7

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. (John 14:1)

When my mother, in the evening of her life, asked me to go with her on a pilgrimage throughout India, I rejected. I had been trained and brought up on the lovely tales of Hinduism. But as we went from place to place, I asked my mother, "Mother, where is God?" Thus my long search for God began. One day a Christian friend called me. He was to have an eye removed the next day. He asked me to read to him from the Bible. I read the words of John 14. Those words became so real to me in the midst of my friend's situation that I asked him, "Can you not pray to this Jesus? ask Him?"

We spent all night in prayer. We shed tears of gladness because we felt God's presence with us, tears of sorrow because of our failures.

The next day the surgeon examined my friend's eyes. In astonishment, he said something had happened and the operation would not be necessary.

Through this experience I came to know that Jesus is alive and that I could have access to God through Him. Life took on new meaning. How wonderfully any person can go forward with Christ!

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy divine love manifested toward us in Thy Son Jesus Christ. Lead me everywhere to believe in Him that He may become thy light. In His name. Amen.

Church of Christ Scientist

Spiritual understanding of God's creation helps man meet everyday problems. This is a leading point of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator" to be heard at Christian Science churches Sunday.

From the Bible will be read the account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's son (Matt. 8).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this (p. 313): "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause."

The Golden Text is from Acts (15): "Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world."

Bishop Henley To Deliver Sermon Sunday Night At Methodist Church

Bishop J. W. Henley, the Presiding Bishop of the Jacksonville Area of the Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon at the Sunday evening service at Community Methodist Church, December 3rd. Bishop Henley was elected Bishop of the Jurisdictional Conference of the Southeastern Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church meeting in Lake Junaluska, North Carolina in July of 1960. Bishop Henley was then appointed as Bishop of the Florida Conference and of Cuba.

All Methodist churches and Methodist ministers and Methodist institutions of Florida and Cuba are under the Administrative Authority of Bishop Henley. In the sixteen months since Bishop Henley was appointed

This Is The Book Of Books

The Bible is God's inspired word. When compared with the Book of books, the best of this world's literatures pales into nothingness. Without the Bible the world's history is incomplete. Little would be known of that period prior to 400 B. C. without it. Nothing would be known of a Savior. It is the Book of Man, the Book of the Peers of Man, the Book of the Peers of God. It is the Book of the Truth, and the Word of Christ. (John 14:18). In the Old Testament the approach of Christ is foreshadowed. In the New Testament, He appears as our living, loving Lord. Without the Bible men would not know how to come to Him or how to live acceptably in His love. The Bible is the Word of Christ. Paul tells us in the Roman letter (Romans 10:17). "Of His own Will, he brought us forth by the Word of Truth. Without the Bible men would be in utter ignorance of the future."

The Bible, not the ideas of men or the interpretations of commentators, should be our soul's standard of appeal in religious matters. His word is unfailing. "To the Law and to the Testimony; if they speak not according to this Word, it is because there is no light in them." (Isaiah 8:20). The Bible should then be our guide, a lamp to our feet and a light to our path. It should be our daily meditation. As the Psalmist said "O Lord, I have meditated all day." (Psalm 119:97). Let it be our comfort and sorrow and its Word shall whisper hope and peace in the death hour. The Bible is the only book that meets the needs of man under all conditions of life. To those who are stooped under heavy burdens it is sweet rest. To the weary pilgrim it is a good life. It is a glorious light. To him who has lost his way it is a safe guide. To the discouraged it is a message of hope. To the yearning pilgrim it is a good strong staff. To those who are debased by the storms of life it is an anchor, sure and steadfast. To those who suffer in lonely solitude it is as a cool soft hand resting on a fevered brow. To those who have been hurt by sin it is a healing pliant. How great is our need to study it daily, believe it, obey it, live it!

The Bible is God's word and gives us the provisions for the end of our journey as well as the beginning. At the end of Being enriched in every thing to all bountifuls, which causeth through you thanksgiving to God."

Select Child's Toys Carefully!!

Christmas can be a very unhappy holiday if care is not exercised in selection of toys for youngsters, the State Board of Health says.

"Christmas may come but once a year," said Claudia J. Walker, in charge of the Board's accident prevention program, but accidents can come more often — and death only once."

Toys should be larger than a youngster's fist, he said; and dull cutting edges can cause more harm than sharp ones. Chemicals should be for teenagers; lead-painted toys should be avoided.

Toys for age groups suggested are: age 0-2; large soft balls or animals, sturdy rattles, round-cornered blocks, push and pull toys; age 2-3; hobby horse, tricycle, picture book, crayons; age 3-4; furniture, toy garden or sand tools, drum, costume, blocks; age 4-6; construction sets, paints, crayons, paper cut-outs, scooters, housekeeping toys, blackboards; age 6-8; toy tools, skates, animated electrical toys with underwriters approval, puzzles, games; age 8 and up; hobby equipment, musical instruments, sports equipment, trains, bicycles, science sets.

"Bye Bye Birdie" At Muscarnival

Producers John L. Price, Jr. has just obtained the first show rights to the hilarious musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie" for Muscarnival's forthcoming season of six shows.

Fresh from a highly successful Broadway run of nearly two years, "Bye Bye Birdie" is the second recent New York hit scheduled for Muscarnival's 1962 season. The West Palm Beach theatre-in-the-round will open its fifth season of musicals on February 20, with Rodgers and Hammerstein's delightful "Flower Drum Song."

"Bye Bye Birdie" which was unanimously hailed by critics on its New York opening is the work of three brilliant talents — Michael Stewart, Charles Strouse and Lee Adams.

The timely story of a comedy and teen-age romance is built around the visit of a popular singing idol to a small town just before he is drafted into the Army. The show takes some rib-tickling and good-natured pokes at the rock 'n' roll singing fad, in addition to telling a charming story that is wonderful fun for the whole family.

The lively score for "Bye Bye Birdie" includes "Put On a Happy Face," "A Lot of Livin' To Do," "What Did I Ever See To Be," 11-27-61, South Bay, Fla. To Be A Woman," and "Baby Talk to Me." One of the highlights of the show is "The Telephone Hour," a musical number made entirely of hilarious excerpts from teen-age's phone conversations.

Subscriptions for Muscarnival's season of six musicals are available right now. Information and order blanks may be obtained by calling Overland 3-5404 or by writing Muscarnival at Box 2108, West Palm Beach.

Six Fla. VA Offices To Close Before '62

VA has decided to close 161 one-man contact offices effective close of business December 31, 1961. Remaining open will be 35 VA Offices employing more than one contact representative. In addition, veterans and others still will be able to get "in-person" information throughout the country.

67 Regional Offices where there will be a total of 767 contact personnel on duty.

Originally these Contact offices were established to assist veterans in making claims for benefits. In the period immediately following World War II when veterans were returning to civilian life at the rate of one million a month, VA established 1049 of these Contact offices throughout the country. As workloads have declined, the number of offices has declined to 196. Distribution of these offices has been uneven, with five states having no Contact offices and 10 having only one.

The compensation claims of veterans of World War II and Korea have for the most part, been settled. Vocational Rehabilitation and Education of World War II and Korean veterans has nearly been concluded. The final date for training in most cases has passed. Loan Guaranty problems are minimal and terminal dates for the program set.

No veterans' records are maintained in the VA Offices, so original action on all claims, amendments or changes thereto, etc., have to be handled by the St. Petersburg Regional Office in the State of Florida. At this stage in the veteran's programs, these matters are handled by mail directly with the veteran. Annual incoming and outgoing flow of mail at the St. Petersburg Regional Office is approximately 24,000,000 pieces of correspondence, an indication of how many veterans are now solving their problems through correspondence.

VA estimates that by closing these one-man offices, no loss of service to veterans nor any drop in efficiency will result, but a savings of approximately $1,000,000 or more seems certain nationwide. Employees will be absorbed to the extent possible and will be in competition with other Regional Office personnel for positions for which they qualify. Also, some positions are now vacant or can become vacant through transfers, retirement, etc., in time to accommodate these field people.

Following the closing of the offices, part-time service will be believed at these former locations one day each week. VA estimates that it has arrived at a point where these small offices have fulfilled the purpose for which they were originally opened. Although the VA decides to abolish these offices as no longer essential to operations in is consonance with the President's recent appeal to Government departments and agencies to increase operating efficiencies and reduce non-defense spending, we emphasize that the decision was made by the VA itself. Offices to close in Florida are: Gainesville, Tallahassee, Marianna, Pensacola, Fort Lauderdale and Key West.

The 20th anniversary of U. S. Savings Bonds saw people owning more of them than ever before. Today Americans have nearly 43 1/2 billion dollars worth of U. S. Bonds put away for the future.

Alaska's Shoreline Four Times Florida's Total Of 8,426 Miles

In measuring Florida against the other 49 states, geographically and population-wise, re-considered both ways and lost by the state during the past two years, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

"For example, Florida's 8,426 mile coastline was second to none until the admission of Alaska in 1959 with a shoreline four times as long. That same year, Hawaii topped Florida at the Southernmost state.

"In total land area, Florida's 54,254 square miles rank the state second east of the Mississippi River and 28th in the nation. Inland water makes up an additional 4,306 square miles of Florida's area, with only two states (Texas and Alaska) having more.

"Population density in Florida soared as a result of its position as the fastest growing state in the nation during the past ten years. There are 91 Floridians per square mile living in the state now compared with 51 nationally. The state ranks 18th in this respect now and was at 28th spot in 1950. Florida counties range from 1,419 persons per square mile in Pinellas to 4 persons in Liberty. Fifteen counties stand above 100 persons per square mile.

"Today 74 per cent of the state's population lives in cities, compared with 66 per cent in 1950. Only two other states had as great a growth in urban population. Although Florida's rural population gained 35 per cent in the past ten years, it grew three times faster, of the state's counties now have a greater rural than urban population because of heavy concentrations in the other 23 counties.

"The median age of Floridians is 31.2 years, only a fraction above the 1950 figure. The national average is 28.5 years. The state ranks fourth in its 11 per cent of persons 65 years or older. Nationally older make up 10 per cent of total population. Among the 53 Florida cities with populations of 10,000 or more, 22 have dropped in median age since 1950.

"Women outnumber men in Florida but in rural areas, the reverse is true. Families average 3.11 persons, slightly lower than the national average.

"The Negro population of the state (numbering 880,186) is gaining in numbers but declining in per cent of total. The proportion stands at 17.9 per cent now and was 21.7 per cent in 1950. Only one other state had a higher drop. There are 2,964 Indians in Florida and 4,989 persons of other races."

FLA FARMERS GROSS $100 MILLION ABOVE '60

Cash income of Florida farmers and growers has reached a gross total of $684,371,000 through September of this year, almost $100 million more than during the same period in 1960, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

"The Florida total represents a gain of 17 per cent compared with a 2 per cent national increase. Part of the Florida gain was a result of a drop in sales during 1960. However, the nine-month total this year is already $40 million ahead of the comparable 1959 figure. Sales during the full year 1959 came to $607,700,000, top income for any year on record.

"During the last five years, income of Florida farmers and growers has advanced at an average rate of $25 million annually, with larger gains wiping out the losses in two of those years. At the same time, farm production expenses have stepped up about $14 million a year. Last year's twelve-month average total amounted to $479,300,000.

"The 1961 total through September was made up of $518,134,000 from the sale of all types of fruits, vegetables and flowers, 20 percent more than in 1960 and 8 per cent above 1959. Livestock and livestock products totaled $166,237,000, up 7 per cent over 1960 and about the same as the 1959 figure."

Fla. Population '61 Reaches 5 Million

Florida topped the five million population mark in 1961 at a pace that will break seven million by 1970, according to estimates released by the University of Florida.

The University's Bureau of Economic and Business Research estimated the state population totaled 5,138,100 on July 1, 1961.

A College of Business Administration research staff on population headed economics professor Dr. John N. Webb compiled the figures.

A 206,500 increase was recorded since the last official federal census on April 1, 1960. The growth rate for the 15 months — 4.2 per cent — would push Florida past the seven million person point by 1970, University researchers predicted.

Florida's population in the state percentage-wise was Charlotte, which jumped 30.2 per cent from 1950 to 1960. But the state's Gold Coast counties of Dade and Broward tabulated the highest numerical increases. Broward rose from 333,900 to 387,500 and Dade edged closer to the million mark, from 655,000 to 683,700.

But the growth — although following the same general county pattern — showed a smaller average gain than during the previous decade.

The University's report noted, "Whether this is a temporary slow-down in growth related to the recent economic recession in the nation, or a suggestion that Florida's population growth will be less spectacular than in the past, will not be clear until more evidence is in," the report stated.

Mr. Average Person Spends $91 Annually For Table Meals

The average person in the United States spends about $91 a year for meals, reports Mrs. Ruth O. Townsend, assistant in nutrition with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

This represents about 4.6 per cent of the average person's income, and it buys 88.5 pounds of beef, 64.6 pounds of pork, 6.3 pounds of veal and 4.6 pounds of lamb and mutton.

Beef consumption is expected to reach a record high of about 90 pounds per person in 1961. But Mrs. Townsend points out that consumption of pork per capita has been declining since World War II. There has also been a trend to fresh meats and away from cured pork items.

Xmas Story In Art Is Lecture Subject At Norton School

The lecture program series for the Palm Beach Art Institute will open on Thursday, December 7th at 8:30 p.m. with an illustrated talk by John M. Norton, the Director of Fine Arts at the Art Institute of Chicago. Speaking on the timely subject, "The Christmas Story in Art."

The Christmas story is one of the world's famous examples of religious art to illustrate the lecture.

A renowned authority on fifteenth and sixteenth century European art, Maxon is well-qualified to speak on this subject. His position at the Art Institute of Chicago requires a re-juvenation of feeding the curatorial and educational affairs of the world's leading museums. His distinguished handling of this position has gained him wide respect.

A Woman's Place Is In The Kitchen If There Is One

By Lawrence E. Will

These first ladies on the lake may not have always had everything to their liking, but at least they had some scenery — the lake, the woods with its moon, flowers and air plants, its wild animals and birds. But the first ladies in the sawgrass didn't even have scenery, excepting saw grass, nor wild life either, except for coons and raccoons or chicken snakes among their rafters. The land was new and raw and wet. When it wasn't wet, dust from the sawgrass muck could itch like a million chiggers. Mrs. William E. Daniels was one of the first to try this life. With her husband and her three year old daughter, she had come from Kentucky to Glades Crest when that settlement was trying to make a start. She had neighbors, but they were scattered far apart. Nobody knew how to farm this raw peat, and most times the ground was too wet to work, so seven families at once left Glades Crest to try their luck at Moore Haven. They like to have got shipwrecked when a storm hit them on the lake, but the Daniels made it to their lake front land one mile east of Three Mile Canal. There like most everybody else, they lived in a floored tent, which was a right good home most of the time, but in a rain it could leak like a market basket. Then Rhinda Daniels would put her baby in the only dry spot, which was under the bed, while she balled out her tent. Mosquitoes were about to eat her young'un up till someone gave her a mosquito bar, for being a Yankee, she had never heard of such a thing before. But Rhinda toughed it out, became postmistress and had the first child here, Moore Haven, to boot, and she's still living at the same spot where she landed October 31, 1915.

fiddled in shifts around the clock. Callers called till they were plumb give out. Shine jugs never stayed empty. Naturally, some sermoneers had to start, but with John Uphogrove and Sheriff Poyser Bill on hand would get smoothed out before anybody got hurt, and all the stomping, shouting and do-si-doing you ever saw in your borned life, I reckon that there was the most. John had to sail up more braces under his floor, but the frolic was a grand success, and I reckon the lake will never see another party like John Uphogrove's square dance.

Now while we're on the subject of women, I recall an interesting subject too, as you'll allow, you begin to wonder about those catfishing days, when women were so scarce and consequently doubly attractive, if there wasn't some jealousy in the camps, maybe even some wife stealing now and then. Jealousy there might have been, but wife stealing was about unknown. Maybe it was just too hard to get away with. Of course in later years when newcomers had been brought here to the lake wife swapping with them was the natural course. If any wench, by chance, happened to be legally married, she bragged that she had "one of those licenses," but if not, she was only a "muck wife" with a "commissary license," which was of course, no license at all. Getting up in Georgia a couple of years divorced was easy too. An old fellow in Belle Glade used to issue marriage licenses. If the two parties later wanted a divorce, he merely tore up their marriage license, charged $5 and told them they were free.

Swapping Wives

I never heard of any fishermen trading wives, but some times one would get stolen, and then he'd be poor lean and Solid. He had retired here to the lake to fish till he'd killed a muck in Georgia. He was doing all right for seven or eight years until some sorry character stole his wife. That was a disgusted fellow, so he went back home to Georgia, where the sheriff arrested him and he had to serve a term in the pen. When his term was up, he headed back to Okeechobee and got his wife back by killing the man who had swiped his spouse. But times have changed.

That fellow's telling you the truth. I've seen the man who got the houseboat and wiped his spouse. But times have changed.

From the L-T canal comes a report that a few of the Lancaster Pennsylvanians that he and three other in his party took to the lake last year over the pumping station. Three over the pump.

I have been asked which lure is best to use in this area for bass. I could mention a dozen different ones that will take bass, but I don't think there is a super lure for any given area. To my mind shiners will produce most consistently and with some good size bass. Spoons will produce best the grass beds. Weedless bait and for better fishing. In open waters the top water plugs seem to have the edge. Deep water bass fishing is best with rubber worms and jig heads. The women fried fish here. This my fishing friends is the Mike Aderson for this area. Take your pick.

Mike Aderson of Toledo, Ohio caught an eleven inch brim that weighed over 2 1/2 pounds near Andytown. He also had a string of 18 specks and five other brim. A report reaches us that Dr. Blake of Ft. Lauderdale, who is a well known fisherman will arrive, shot a fourteen point muskie in Ontario, Canada. He also shot a deer and a bear on had changed here on the lake. This time he had to serve a term in Raiford.

But I recollect one fisherman who had to buy a wife. Since he was later might well known around the lake, we'll just say his name was Bill, for to be sure, that's what it was. Bill had been fishing at Little Bare Beach with a man who for the same good reason, we'll call Mack. While laying out the seine Mack used to run the bait, while Bill had nothing to do meanwhile but stand there by the staff. Sometimes when the haul was near to camp Bill used to wade ashore while waiting for the circle to be made, and that would have been all right, too, except that Mack's wife was in the shack quite conveniently nearby. One day after Bill had disappeared, Mack just dropped his anchor and let the old mack-and-break keep on a popping while he slipped up to the house. There was not any bit of shooting. Bill had some money and Mack knew exactly how much it was. So Mack got $500. Bill got the woman and the shores of Little Bare Beach.

And that puts me in mind of another swap. This is right funny in a way. Down in Ft. Lauderdale on the railroad docked that day a couple of men, vegetables being unloaded from the boats. One of them, was telling how he was washing his vegetables in a couple of men divorced was easy too. An old fellow in Belle Glade used to issue marriage licenses. If the two parties later wanted a divorce, he merely tore up their marriage license, charged $5 and told them they were free.

That was in Georgia, and you told it for a joke. I guess, but long ago on the Hillsboro Canal, not up on a lake, a man actually did trade his wife to another man for a houseboat and a launch!

The story teller flared right up. "You bet I told it for a joke, but you can't see from the lake seem to thank that you can tell most any tale and expect us to believe it!"

Now, those were fighting words, but to the surprise of those who were a quiet stranger but in.

That fellow's telling you the truth. I've seen the man who got the houseboat and wiped his spouse. But times have changed.

Jealousy there might have been, but wife stealing was about unknown. Maybe it was just too hard to get away with. Of course in later years when newcomers had been brought here to the lake wife swapping with them was the natural course. If any wench, by chance, happened to be legally married, she bragged that she had "one of those licenses," but if not, she was only a "muck wife" with a "commissary license," which was of course, no license at all. Getting up in Georgia a couple of years divorced was easy too. An old fellow in Belle Glade used to issue marriage licenses. If the two parties later wanted a divorce, he merely tore up their marriage license, charged $5 and told them they were free.

I never heard of any fishermen trading wives, but some times one would get stolen, and then he'd be poor lean and Solid. He had retired here to the lake to fish till he'd killed a muck in Georgia. He was doing all right for seven or eight years until some sorry character stole his wife. That was a disgusted fellow, so he went back home to Georgia, where the sheriff arrested him and he had to serve a term in the pen. When his term was up, he headed back to Okeechobee and got his wife back by killing the man who had swiped his spouse. But times have changed.

That fellow's telling you the truth. I've seen the man who got the houseboat and wiped his spouse. But times have changed.

From the L-T canal comes a report that a few of the Lancaster Pennsylvanians that he and three other in his party took to the lake last year over the pumping station. Three over the pump.

I have been asked which lure is best to use in this area for bass. I could mention a dozen different ones that will take bass, but I don't think there is a super lure for any given area. To my mind shiners will produce most consistently and with some good size bass. Spoons will produce best the grass beds. Weedless bait and for better fishing. In open waters the top water plugs seem to have the edge. Deep water bass fishing is best with rubber worms and jig heads. The women fried fish here. This my fishing friends is the Mike Aderson for this area. Take your pick.

Mike Aderson of Toledo, Ohio caught an eleven inch brim that weighed over 2 1/2 pounds near Andytown. He also had a string of 18 specks and five other brim. A report reaches us that Dr. Blake of Ft. Lauderdale, who is a well known fisherman will arrive, shot a fourteen point muskie in Ontario, Canada. He also shot a deer and a bear on the lake. Callers called till they were plumb give out. Shine jugs never stayed empty. Naturally, some sermoneers had to start, but with John Uphogrove and Sheriff Poyser Bill on hand would get smoothed out before anybody got hurt, and all the stomping, shouting and do-si-doing you ever saw in your borned life, I reckon that there was the most. John had to sail up more braces under his floor, but the frolic was a grand success, and I reckon the lake will never see another party like John Uphogrove's square dance.

Now while we're on the subject of women, I recall an interesting subject too, as you'll allow, you begin to wonder about those catfishing days, when women were so scarce and consequently doubly attractive, if there wasn't some jealousy in the camps, maybe even some wife stealing now and then. Jealousy there might have been, but wife stealing was about unknown. Maybe it was just too hard to get away with. Of course in later years when newcomers had been brought here to the lake wife swapping with them was the natural course. If any wench, by chance, happened to be legally married, she bragged that she had "one of those licenses," but if not, she was only a "muck wife" with a "commissary license," which was of course, no license at all. If gum were to get into your carburetor, it could lead to unexpected repairs like this. One of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell fights gum to give you top performance.

ANCIENT HISTORY:

Gasoline gum used to cause unexpected repair bills. Today, one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fights off gum —to save you money and give you top performance.

The gum preventive in today's Super Shell is so powerful that one thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a gallon. Read how this "chemical policeman" works.

THE MECHANIC in our photograph is about to go to work on a gummed-up carburetor. A nice little repair job.

But to Shell scientists, gummed-up carburetors are ancient history.

Deep test shows how well Shell gum prevention works. Container on left has two, unprocessed gasoline without gum preventive on right, processed gasoline with Super Shell's gum preventive. Gasoline drops onto heated plates and evaporates, simulating long storage.

And so are other gum troubles. Such as sticky intake valves. And fouled automatic chokes. Here's why: 1. Shell uses refining processes that hold certain gum-forming gasoline components to a minimum.

2. Shell guards all tanks, pipes, and fuel lines against dirt and other gum-forming contaminants.
3. Shell includes a powerful gum preventive in Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula.

"Chemical cop" at work

The gum preventive in Super Shell is so effective that a thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a whole gallon of gasoline. This remarkable ingredient has been described as a "chemical policeman." It helps to keep unstable elements in gasoline from sticking together—the way a skilled policeman prevents trouble by keeping a crowd from forming.

Hot Weather Blend

For a quick run-down on the other eight ingredients in today's Super Shell, see box at right. And for top performance all summer, keep your tank filled with Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend. It's specially formulated to fight engine flooding and other hot weather troubles. At Shell stations now.

Here are the 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

- #1 is TCP—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
- #4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knocking."
- #5 is Butane—for quick starts.
- #6 is "cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer." Added when cold weather sets in.
- #8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

Thief Breaks-In South Bay School

The South Bay School was broken into Friday evening and several of the teachers' desks were ransacked. Mr. Johnson school custodian discovered the break-in Saturday morning. Chief Davis noticed that the thief had left shoe prints in the fresh paint and was able to trace his movements. After the school. After a complete investigation it was found that he had entered the fourth grade and taken a small amount of change plus a record player and about a dozen records belonging to one of the students, and also entered the seventh grade and had taken some small change and two fountain pens. CUBAN CORNER

Noticias de La Cubanos

At our last class meeting, a part of the time was spent discussing the meaning of Thanksgiving Day. Words in connection with this occasion were explained. Cubans use some of the English words, such as Cranberries, instead of the Spanish terms.

Mr. Varona was absent from class because he had to work. Mr. Jose Ruiz was not able to attend because he was working. Mrs. Acelia Ruiz was recovered from her recent illness and able to attend class.

Members of the class not previously introduced through this column include:

Dr. Francisco Tudela, M.D. who comes from Havana. He is employed at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital. Although Dr. Tudela is not licensed to practice his profession in the States, he enjoys his work at the hospital. He serves valuably as a liaison between the Cuban people and English-speaking persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Geraldo have been in the States since the middle of October. They came from Cuba by way of Spain to New York, then to Lake Harbor where they reside at present with Mrs. Gonzalez's father, Mr. Muniz. Mr. Gonzalez is employed as a soil analyst at the Everglades Experiment Station. In Cuba, he was a registered pharmacist. In addition to the Wednesday night English class, Mr. Gonzalez is being privately tutored three nights a week. He feels an intense need to understand the, to him, rapid pace of spoken English.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Havanna Fla. Boy
Heads National BFF

"With the election in October of young Victor Butler of Havanna as national president of the Future Farmers of America, we have gained a fine, new goodwill ambassador for Florida."

"The choice of Butler to head the BFFA National organization of some 380,000 members is a splendid tribute to Florida's progress in agriculture. He's the fourth Floridian to be elected to this important post. No other state can equal this record."

"Meeting the responsibilities of national president of BFFA is a task to be taken lightly. Our Florida past presidents include Lester Poucher of Lakeland, 1937-38 and Bill Gunter of Orlando, 1954-55. It was my pleasure to hold the office in 1948-49."

The first telephones in Florida were located in Pensacola and Jacksonville in the period 1877 to 1880. These were individual telephones on direct lines for relatively short distances.

UNION INTRODUCES GS-1000 ENERGY FUEL

"Have you read this Popular Mechanics article?"

... It's the factual story of how GS-1000 will improve your gas mileage...

give your car more power!

"This is Bud Robineau of the Union Petroleum Corporation. Here at Union we'd like to shout about GS-1000 Energy Fuel because everyone using it is getting better mileage and more power from their cars. But we're your regional gasoline company and I'm afraid we haven't the resources to out-shout all the folks who have put alphabetical additives in their gasoline. I hope you're interested enough in the maintenance and performance of your car to read what an impartial, authoritative source - Popular Mechanics magazine - has to say about our new product, GS-1000. You can get a copy of the article at your nearest Union dealer, without obligation, of course. Or write to me here at 2090 Biscayne Blvd., Miami 37 and I'll send you a copy."
